1st Lieutenant, A. D. C., Iowa Brigade

When our country was in danger of a Mexican invasion and President Wilson called for State troops, on June 18th, 1916, Iowa answered the call by sending 4500 of her guardsmen to the border. The 1st Iowa Brigade, under command of General Allen, consisted of three regiments of infantry, one battalion of artillery, and one squadron of cavalry, with sanitary detachments, field hospital, and ambulance company.

About thirty days were spent at Camp Dodge, near Des Moines, Iowa, in the muster in of these organizations into the Federal service. Hard drilling and conditioning of the troops commenced immediately upon their arrival in camp, and, when the time to entrain for the border came, Iowa sent out a body of 4500 young men; soldiers, never equalled by any army in the world.

These troops arrived at Brownsville, Texas, and went into camp under the most unfavorable conditions. The camp sites assigned to them were covered with brush and cactus, not a clear space anywhere large enough on which to pitch a tent. They soon had their cars unloaded, and escort wagons assembled, when the axes began to ring and the cactus and brush loaded into wagons. There were no mules to draw these wagons, but, with a song of pride and soldierly duty, every man exerted himself to clear the ground. Human teams pulled the loaded wagons to the edge of camp and returned for the next load. By night a camp site, large enough to pitch tents, was cleared, bunks were made on the ground and the Iowa troops turned in for a needed rest. This work continued until the Iowa camp was the neatest, cleanest, and best arranged camp in the entire valley. It was the pride of the district commander, and the regular officers pointed with pride to the Iowa troops and their camp, as a model for the regular army to pattern after.

The sanitary condition during their stay on the border was perfect. Eight deaths occurred and they were all of an accidental nature, a fact which speaks wonders for the duties performed by the sanitary detachments.

The Iowa troops entered in many contests; baseball, football, polo, prize drills, shooting, every form of clean sport found Iowa represented, and Iowa always brought home the bacon. They won first prize in every event, in the shooting won the championship of the world. No finer body of men ever existed. No community in the world of 4500 population can begin to show the high moral standard shown by these soldiers. These men have done their bit on the border, they have stood guard on the Rio Grande for six months, under trying conditions. They have worked hard and have set a standard of proficiency that no other troops have ever reached. They return home better men morally, physically, and more patriotic than many who stayed at home.

Iowa should be proud of her answer to the President's call, and realize that preparedness parade in a street of an Iowa city and through the sand and cactus on the Mexican border are two different things.

HEADQUARTERS BROWNSVILLE DISTRICT
Brownsville, Texas

December 13, 1916.

Having been asked to express my appreciation of the Iowa troops, I am very glad to state that the Iowa Brigade has every reason to be proud of its record in the Brownsville District. It came here well trained as far as marksmanship was concerned, and it has added to its record since being here by the high scores of its teams at the Jacksonville competition. In respect to other training, no troops in this District have performed more faithful service, have worked longer hours or accomplished more in results than the Iowa Brigade. Its camp has always been a model of precision and cleanliness. The discipline and subordination of the troops has been excellent. The appearance of the regiments of the Iowa Brigade on review or on parade always shows precision, steadiness and neatness of uniform. For these results we are indebted to the spirit of pride which has animated the men and the intelligent supervision of the officers, especially of their commander, Brigadier General H. A. Allen. It has been a great pleasure to command such troops.

JAMES PARKER,
Brigadier General, U. S. Army, Commanding.

CO. A, 1ST INFANTRY, DUBUQUE, IOWA

“The Governor’s Greys” were organized in April, 1859, and has been a military organization in Dubuque, Iowa, since that date. In 1861 they were among the first to answer the call and served with an enviable record through the war of the rebellion. After this crisis in our country’s history they were organized again as State militia and served as such till the call came in the Spanish-American war. Service in Cuba was added to the credit of the organization at this time.

On June 20, 1916, the call came for service on the Mexican border and Co. A reported in Des Moines with 145 officers and men. Since that time the strength has varied as follows: Additions, recruits 8, by transfer 1, total 9. Losses, disqualified by physical examination 16, transferred to Co. L 16, transferred to band 1, to Headquarters Co. 13, to Supply Co. 10, by discharge 4, by death 1, total 61. Strength on Dec. 18—3 officers, 92 enlisted men.

The organization was ordered to the Mexican border on July 24 and served near Brownsville, Texas, till Dec. 18, 1916, when they were ordered to Ft. Des Moines for the purpose of being mustered out of the U. S. service.

CO. B, 1ST INFANTRY, WATERLOO, IOWA

Co. B was reorganized after the Spanish-American War on the 6th day of February, 1900, being composed of thirty Spanish-American War veterans, and about twenty recruits, under which classification I came. At this time it was in the old 49th Iowa Infantry, and a few years later was classified as Co. B, of the 53rd, and in 1915 was changed to Co. B, of the 1st Iowa Infantry. Company B has taken part in every encampment and maneuver of every sort in which the regiment was ever represented. As a token of appreciation for my continuous and faithful service, I was chosen First Lieutenant of the company May 18th, 1908, and on June 4th, 1912, was chosen Captain. At the time of the call of the President Company B was composed of 3 officers and 75 men. We at once started to recruit, and at the time of leaving our home rendezvous we were recruited to 3 officers and 106 enlisted men, arriving at our concentration camp, Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, June 24th, 1916. We left Camp Dodge for the Mexican border on July 24th, arriving in Camp Victoria, Brownsville, Texas, July 29th. Our company took part in every hike and maneuver with the exception of the final maneuver. At this time we were on outpost duty, at Brulay Ranch. We were chosen by General Allen to guard the brigade camp, and were recalled from Brulay when the maneuver commenced. The men have gone through the extremes that they have been forced to endure with little sickness, and without one bad case in the company's record. We have had few discharges from service or transfers to other organizations, and the personnel of our company has remained almost intact since we were called out.

CO. C, 1ST INFANTRY, CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

This company takes pride in calling the Parlor City of Iowa its home station, and the city of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, can feel justly as proud of Co. C, as it is one of the oldest organizations of the State of Iowa, and has been recognized and proven itself to be one of the best military companies in the State. It performed its duties in the Spanish-American War with credit that any organization of its kind could feel justly proud of, and upon being mustered out in May, 1899, was reorganized in December, 1899. At the call of the President, June 18, 1916, Co. C reported at the mobilization camp, Camp Dodge, Iowa, with 3 officers and 131 enlisted men, being the second largest company in the State that answered the call. The present officers of the company have been affiliated with the organization for a number of years, Captain John F. Rau having been a member since Aug. 3, 1900, receiving a commission Sept. 10, 1903, and has served continuously since that time. Chas. Kubias, 1st Lieutenant, has been a member since May 14, 1905, was elected as Lieutenant June 25, 1906, and is still serving in that position. Sewall C. Viles, 2nd Lieutenant, has been a member of Co. C since 1911, being elected as 2nd Lieutenant June 15, 1914. He had previously held a position as 2nd Lieutenant in Co. G of Vinton, Iowa.

CO. D, 1ST INFANTRY, CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

Almost three years ago, to be exact April 29, 1914, Company H of the 53rd Regiment of Iowa Infantry was formed at Cedar Rapids. Adjutant-General Guy E. Logan then mustered into service fifty-five men with the following officers: Judge C. B. Robbins, now a Major and Brigade Adjutant, Captain; Walter A. Meyer, First Lieutenant; Carl Stoddard, Second Lieutenant. In July, 1915, upon reorganization of the Iowa National Guard the official designation was changed to that of Company D, 1st Iowa Infantry. On June 26, 1916, it was mustered into the service of the United States at Camp Dodge with 105 men, of which quite a number were students of Coe College. The present officers are Walter A. Meyer, Captain; Harry P. Donovan, First Lieutenant; and Charles Penningroth, Second Lieutenant. Though a young company, with the progress it has made and spirit heretofore shown historians can credit it with an enviable record.

CO. E, 1ST INFANTRY, CHARLES CITY, IOWA

Co. E was organized June 7, 1909, in what was then known as the 53rd Regiment, with the following officers: Captain, C. A. Danforth; First Lieutenant, George H. Haley; Second Lieutenant, J. Clarence Grinde.

In October, 1912, Lieut. Grinde resigned but again became connected with the company in 1914, this time as First Lieutenant.

Capt. Danforth resigned in the early part of 1913 and then Lieut. Haley was in command until April 28, 1913, when Thomas A. Beardmore, the present Captain, took command.

Lieut. Haley resigned in the fall of 1913 and on March 4 J. Clarence Grinde and Robert L. Norton were elected First and Second Lieutenants respectively.

On June 18 when the National Guard was called to the colors by President Wilson, Co. E responded with 73 enlisted men and 3 officers, 34 more being added after the call, making a total of 107 enlisted men and 3 officers that left Charles City for Camp Dodge, Iowa, their mobilization point.

CO. F, 1ST INFANTRY, CEDAR FALLS, IOWA

Company F was organized and mustered into the service at Cedar Falls, Iowa, on March 21, 1911. I took charge of the company on its organization and have had command ever since. First Lieut. Frank N. Mead and Lieut. Olaf H. Simonsen have been with the company ever since its organization.

The company was mustered in by Gen. Allen with a membership of 61 men, was called into Federal service on June 20, 1916, and reported at Camp Dodge, Iowa, with a membership of 80 men and 3 officers on June 24, 1916. Left for Brownsville, Texas, on July 25, 1916, and arrived there on July 31, 1916.

There has never been a death in the company and but very little sickness. Returned back to home station from the border December 18, 1916.

CO. G, 1ST INFANTRY, WATERLOO, IOWA

Company G, First Iowa Infantry, organized by Captain J. H. Hildebrand at Waterloo, Iowa, on May 17, 1912, as Company L, 53rd Iowa, is one of the shooting companies of the State. The company team has won the following matches: company team matches, Iowa State Shoot, 1914 and 1915; second place, company team match, National Shoot, 1916. Its six-man team representing 1st Iowa Infantry at Brownsville, Texas, won second place against the Brownsville district, 1916. This company furnished three men—Durchdenwald, Crowell, and Allard—for Iowa State team, Jacksonville, 1915; and five men—Durchdenwald, Crowell, Ward, Allard, and Saunders—for the Iowa State team, Jacksonville, 1916. Durchdenwald, Crowell, and Allard shot on the six-man team representing the First Iowa Infantry in the regimental match at Jacksonville, 1916, the regiment winning the match. Second place in the Wimbledon and Leech Cup matches won by Durchdenwald at Jacksonville in 1915, tied in both events for first place; also second place in the marine corps match, Jacksonville, 1916; also the individual championship of Iowa, 1914, and the pistol championship of Iowa in 1915.

Company G holds the Moore Trophy won by it in 1915 for the highest military efficiency in the regiment. At Brownsville, Texas, in 1916 Company G won first place in the battalion and second place in the regiment on competitive inspection and close and extended-order drill.

The athletic record shows, among many other things, Co. G the champion football team of the First Iowa Infantry, Brownsville, season of 1916.

CO. H, 1ST INFANTRY, MANCHESTER, IOWA

Company D, 53rd Regiment, Iowa National Guard, was mustered into the service at Manchester, Iowa, April 25, 1905. The officers elected were Harry G. Utley, Captain; Jesse O. Young, First Lieutenant; Jesse G. Lewis, Second Lieutenant.

On April 25th, 1910, the commissions of the officers expired and the following officers were elected: Harry G. Utley, Captain; Jesse G. Lewis, First Lieutenant; Don A. Preussner, Second Lieutenant.

Captain Utley was elected Major in March, 1914, after having served nine years as Captain. Lieut. Preussner was elected to succeed Capt. Utley. Lieut. Lewis resigned and Sergt. Fred W. Miller was elected Second Lieutenant.

In March, 1915, Captain Preussner resigned and William F. Grossman was elected to succeed him, taking command of the company July 1st, 1915. In October, 1915, Fred W. Miller was elected First Lieutenant and Sergt. Thomas D. Wilson, Second Lieutenant. Guard reorganized and company letter changed from D to H.

On June 20th, 1916, Co. H was called into the Federal service, leaving home station June 24th, arriving at the Camp Dodge concentration camp on the same date. Left Des Moines July 25th, arriving at Brownsville, Texas, July 30th, 1916.

Major Utley and 1st Sergt. William W. Matthews are the only charter members of the company still in the service, Sergt. Matthews having served in that capacity since 1906.

CO. K, 1ST INFANTRY, WASHINGTON, IOWA

Company K, 1st, I. N. G., was the second company of militia to be organized in the State of Iowa. From then until the present time they have always been a self-supporting organization and have been always ready to respond to their country's call and in 1898 as Co. D, Iowa, 50, answered the call of the President with a large number of Washington County boys.

After the company returned from the south the company was reorganized and designated as Co. D, 54th Iowa. Co. D was one of the ranking companies of the State and some of the best rifle shots of the country have been members of the company. In 1915 Co. D was made Co. K of the First Iowa.

On June 18, when President Wilson called for the Guard to protect the Mexican border, Co. K reported with one hundred well-drilled men. Some of these men were unable to pass the physical examination and only seventy-five went south with the company July 25, 1916.

CO. A, 2ND INFANTRY, MASON CITY, IOWA

Company A of the Second Regiment is proud of its record. Originally it was composed of Civil War veterans and was mustered in in 1865, and has held a foremost position ever since. When the call came at the time of the Spanish-American War, Co. A responded in a manner that has always been characteristic of the organization, and in the months that followed till they were mustered out gave a very good account of themselves. When the call of June 20th came the response was simultaneous to a man. Men in every walk of life: bankers, merchants, business men, skilled mechanics, all were eager to defend their country. It will always be the boast of Co. A that when the call comes they can be depended on to the last man.

CO. B, 2ND INFANTRY, IDA GROVE, IOWA

Company B, 2nd Iowa Infantry, was mustered into the 56th Regiment of the Iowa National Guard July 28, 1903. Grey Warren was elected Captain. The successive Captains have been A. C. Johnston, T. E. Murphy, F. G. Stough, J. Raymond Murphy, A. C. Johnston, and Edwin I. Lindsay, now commanding.

It was reported at Camp Dodge, which may or may not have been true, that Company B was the first organization in the State of Iowa to the last man to take the Federal oath, 97 men and 3 officers took the oath. Nevertheless Company B is justly proud of the fact that Ida Grove, the home station, is the smallest town in the State supporting a company of Federal militia.

B company in years past was one of the leaders in athletics in the regiment. During their term of service on the border, while not one of the largest companies, it is rated as one of the best, thanks to the energies of the officers and the general personnel of the enlisted men.

CO. D, 2ND INFANTRY, MASON CITY, IOWA

Company D, 2nd Iowa Infantry, was mustered into the service of the Iowa National Guard in the assembly room at the Court House at Mason City, Iowa, its home station, by Adjutant General Guy E. Logan, on January 5, 1915. This event marked the culmination of several months of consistent effort on the part of Captain Heffner, Lieutenant Odle, and a few of the present enlisted men of the company.

Following the mustering in of the company the following officers were elected: McKee J. Heffner, Captain; Harold W. Odle, First Lieutenant; Clyde E. Trevett, Second Lieutenant. The latter resigned a few months later, and in October, 1915, First Sergeant Arthur C. Echternacht was elected Second Lieutenant, who, with Captain Heffner and Lieutenant Odle comprise the present officers of the company.

On June 20, 1916, when orders were received to mobilize at home station armories the strength of the company was three officers and sixty-nine men, and not a man failed to respond to the call of the President. The company proceeded to Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, on June 26 with a strength of 3 officers and 110 men. Since that time the strength has been reduced to 3 officers and 91 men, the loss being due to failure to pass the physical examination, failure to take the Federal oath, and transfer to other organizations.

CO. E, 2ND INFANTRY, SHELDON, IOWA

This company was mustered in at Sheldon, Iowa, June 16, 1902, under Capt. J. Fisher. Lieut. Col. F. Bailly, now of the 2nd Iowa, was next in command, followed by Captains H. Brackney and C. McKillips. The present officers are Capt. H. G. Geiger, a former officer of the Illinois National Guard, who has commanded the company since 1911; Lieutenant E. C. Starrett, who succeeded Lieutenant S. Phelps, retired for physical disability; and Lieutenant Edward Swatosk.

This company was originally located at Hull, Iowa, and served in the United States volunteer service during the war with Spain. It was mustered into the Federal service June 28, 1916, for Mexican border service.

CO. F, 2ND INFANTRY, FORT DODGE, IOWA

Company F of the Second Iowa Infantry is the younger of the two organizations located at Fort Dodge, Iowa. It was organized by Major S. B. Philpot in January, 1911, to take the place of F Company of Algona, mustered out. Since that time it has been a live, energetic organization, keeping pace beside its older brother, G Company, with which it shared the Fort Dodge Armory.

Captain Henry R. Heath was commissioned Captain in January, 1912, after a year's service in the infant organization, and a full term in G Company. Elmer R. Appel, the First Lieutenant, was commissioned June 27, 1916. He had served as Second Lieutenant for a little over one year. Theo B. Munson, Second Lieutenant, was commissioned July 6, 1916, being promoted from Sergeant, after five years' service.

Company F came into the Federal service June 28, 1916, with 102 men and 2 officers. Eight were discharged after the physical examination, several transferred and a few discharged on account of expiration of enlistment. The first of 1917 found the company at Brownsville, Texas, with 84 men and 3 officers.

CO. G, 2ND INFANTRY, FORT DODGE, IOWA

The present Company G was organized in Fort Dodge, Iowa, in 1891 of the old 6th Iowa Infantry. In 1893 when the State militia was reorganized Co. G became a unit of the 4th Iowa Infantry and continued as such until 1898 when, after muster into the United States service at Chickamauga, Co. G with other companies of the regiment became the 52nd Iowa Infantry. The company was mustered out in the winter of 1898 and was not again reorganized until March, 1899, when it was mustered into the State service as Co. G of the 56th Iowa Infantry. July 4th, 1915, when the State troops were again reorganized to comply with the requirements of the war department, Co. G became a unit of the 2nd Iowa Infantry, to which regiment they now belong.

On June 20th, 1916, Co. G responded to the call of the President, and was quickly recruited to 3 officers and 111 enlisted members, with which complement it reported to the United States mustering officer at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, June 26th 1916. On June 28th, 1916, Captain Frankenburger of the 1st U. S. Field Artillery mustered Co. G into the Federal service. July 22nd, 1916, Co. G entrained for the border and arrived at Brownsville, Texas, July 27th, 1916, which place has been its permanent station since arrival.

The present strength of Co. G is 3 officers and 85 enlisted members, the decrease being due to transfers to the Headquarters and Supply Companies and to discharges on account of expiration of term of service.

CO. H, 2ND INFANTRY, SIOUX CITY, IOWA

Company H was organized in 1882 and was the first military organization at Sioux City, Iowa, to become a part of the Iowa State Militia. Since that time the company has continuously maintained its organization at Sioux City and has never been mustered out for inefficiency or for any other reason. Among its Captains who later became Colonels of the regiment were Charles E. Foster and William B. Humphreys. Willard M. Flynn, who commanded the company in 1905 and 1906, afterwards became Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment.

In 1898 the company under the command of Captain Harry Gooch answered the call of the President for service in the Spanish-American War and formed a part of the Army Corps in the mobilization camp at Chickamauga Park.

On June 20, 1916, the Governor of Iowa directed the members of Company H to assemble at its armory preparatory to mustering into the Federal service. In response to the Governor's call one hundred men reported at the mobilization camp at Camp Dodge and were mustered into the Federal service. The company was later sent to Brownsville, Texas, where its regiment, the Second Iowa Infantry, formed a part of the First Iowa Brigade under the command of General Hubert A. Allen.

CO. I, 2ND INFANTRY, BOONE AND AMES, IOWA

Company I of the Second Iowa has a long and honorable record. It was organized at Boone by Gen. James Rush Lincoln and was the first National Guard organization in the State.

The present company is composed of men from both Boone and Ames; the Captain from Ames and the Lieutenants from Boone. Ames originally had Company C of the Third Iowa but was transferred to a separate company on account of being below the minimum strength. Just before the call into Federal service the two companies were combined into one (Boone having also failed to get the required number of men).

Company I went into mobilization camp with one hundred thirty-one men and three officers but lost many because of physical disability. The roll showed eighty-six men and officers on arrival at Brownsville.

CO. K, 2ND INFANTRY, LE MARS, IOWA

Company K, Second Iowa Infantry, was mustered in at Le Mars, Iowa, on December 9th, 1913, by Gen. Guy E. Logan and the same night Capt. Koenig was elected commanding officer. Later John C. Peterson was elected First Lieutenant and Wm. M. Rothaermel Second Lieutenant.

The personnel of the company is made up almost entirely from residents of Le Mars and Plymouth County.

Company K was mustered into the Federal service with seventy-eight men, on June 28th, 1916.

The company has always shown interest in range work and its rifle team consequently has made a creditable showing at State meets, twenty-fourth in 1914 and seventh in 1915.

CO. L, 2ND INFANTRY, SIOUX CITY, IOWA

Company L, Second Iowa Infantry, was first organized at its home station, Sioux City, Iowa, in 1892. It has had an unbroken record since that time. The present commander, Captain Gordon C. Hollar, took charge of the organization in January, 1914. The other officers are Mark E. Bigelow, First Lieutenant, and Preston B. Waterbury, Second Lieutenant. The company left Sioux City with 93 men and 3 officers, was mustered in with 80 men and 3 officers. The present strength of the company is 83 men and 3 officers, 12 recruits having joined the company since arriving at its present station.

CO. M, 2ND INFANTRY, CHEROKEE, IOWA

Mustered into Federal service, June 28th, 1916, at Camp Dodge, Iowa.

Company M was mustered into the Iowa National Guard June 18th, 1915, by Colonel N. P. Hyatt at the Armory, Cherokee, Iowa, with W. P. McCulla as Captain, Forrest E. Collins, First Lieutenant, and Lewis L. Totman, Second Lieutenant.

Captain McCulla resigned in the spring of 1916, and Forrest E. Collins was made Captain and received his commission May 22nd, 1916. Lewis L. Totman was made First Lieutenant, and was commissioned June 5th, 1916. Ralph S. Geiger was made Second Lieutenant and was commissioned June 12th, 1916.

At the time of the call of the President, June 18th, 1916, the enlisted men numbered 43. But when the company left for the mobilization camp at Des Moines there were 97 names on the roll. Through physical disability, dependent relatives, and discharges, several men were lost. At the time of this publication, 72 enlisted men and 3 officers constitute Company M.

After a month's training at the mobilization camp at Des Moines, the 2nd Iowa Infantry was ordered South, and are now stationed at Brownsville, Texas, with the other units of the Iowa Brigade.

HISTORY OF THE 3RD REGIMENT

The history of the Third Iowa Infantry falls naturally into four periods. The first period deals with the Third Regiment, I. N. G., from 1892 to 1898. The second period deals with the 51st Iowa Infantry, Spanish-American War, 1898-1899. The third period deals with the regiment as it was reorganized following the Spanish-American War when it was known successively as the 51st, 55th, and 3rd Iowa Infantry, 1900-1916. The fourth period deals with the 3rd Iowa Infantry, Mexican border service, 1916.

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War the regiment answered the call of the President of the United States and was mustered into service May 30, 1898. The history of the regiment from May 30, 1898, to Nov. 2, 1899, the date it was mustered out of service, is one that every member of the present 3rd Regiment can point to with pride. The world's record of remaining on a troop ship for over three months with perfect health is still accorded this regiment. The record of the regiment in the Philippine campaign against Aguinaldo, the insurrector, is a glorious history.

When the President again in 1916 called the Guard to the colors the regiment almost to a man answered the call and swore again to leave home, family and friends to protect his country. Colonel Bennett has commanded the regiment since 1909 and has been a member of the regiment for twenty-seven years. The field officers of the regiment have served on an average of over 22 years with the Guard. General Lincoln commanded the regiment from 1900 to 1909. Colonel Loper commanded it during the Spanish-American War and Col. Al Swalm, now U. S. Consul in England, commanded it for several years previous to the Spanish-American War.

CO. A, 3RD INFANTRY, WINTERSET, IOWA

This company was organized at Winterset, Iowa, and mustered into the Iowa National Guard as Co. G, 51st Infantry, on March 11th, 1901, by Adjutant General M. H. Byers.

The regimental number was later changed to 55 and on the reorganization of the Iowa National Guard on July 1st, 1915, it was transferred to Co. A, 3rd Infantry.

It has had the experiences common to nearly all Guard companies in keeping up somewhere near to the high standard required by the Iowa Adjutant General's department.

On the call of the President last June the company reported at the mobilization camp with 3 officers and 80 men. Only 2 men failed to report, neither of whom could be notified.

CO. D, 3RD INFANTRY, CENTREVILLE, IOWA

Company D, 3rd Iowa Infantry, was organized shortly after the close of the Civil War as Co. E and assigned to the 2nd Iowa Infantry, being composed principally of Civil War veterans. Upon war being declared on Spain this company was mustered into service on May 18th, 1898, and the designation of regiment changed to 54th with which regiment it did service at Camp "Cuba Libre", Jacksonville, Florida, and was mustered out of the service on Nov. 30, 1898; it continued as Co. E, 54th Iowa, up until the reorganization of the Guard in 1914 when it was left unassigned and designated as 1st Separate Co. In the fall of the same year it was assigned to 3rd Iowa Infantry under Col. E. R. Bennett as Co. D. This company has furnished several officers of high rank in the Iowa National Guard, having one Adjutant General of the State to its credit in the person of Gen. H. H. Wright, who held that office under Governor Drake.

CO. F, 3RD INFANTRY, VILLISCA, IOWA

Company F, 3rd Iowa Infantry, was organized in the year 1873 at Villisca, Montgomery County, Iowa, and has since continuously maintained a company in the National Guard. A fine armory costing $25,000 was built for the company in 1912 by a stock company consisting mainly of the citizens of Villisca. The present company always has had the solid support of the people of Villisca and vicinity and hopes to deserve a continuance of the same.

CO. K, 3RD INFANTRY, CORNING, IOWA

Company K, 3rd Iowa Infantry, has claimed Corning, Iowa, as its home station since 1893.

Its first Captain was A. B. Shaw. He was succeeded by Captain Emerson Pearis. The company was called for service at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War on the 26th day of April, 1898, and was mustered into the Federal service as a part of the 51st Iowa Infantry and was subsequently stationed at Camp Merrit, California, the Presidio of San Francisco, and on the 22nd day of September, 1898, sailed for the Philippine Islands where it saw service. It returned to the United States about the 20th of November, 1899, and was mustered out of service at San Francisco.

The company then became a part of the 55th Regiment, I. N. G., its Captain being Howard G. Karns. He was succeeded by Captain Daniel W. Turner, Captain Claude M. Stanley, and Captain Benjamin J. Gibson, who is its present commander.

The company was called for Federal service on June 20th, 1916, and is now stationed at Camp Victoria Heights, Brownsville, Texas.

CO. L, 3RD INFANTRY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA

Company L, 3rd Iowa Infantry, known locally as the Dodge Light Guards, was organized by the late Major-General Grenville M. Dodge to resist an expected attack of the Sioux Indians upon the frontier settlement of Council Bluffs, Iowa. It was organized in 1855 and is said to be the oldest company in the State of Iowa. It served throughout the War of the Rebellion, the Spanish-American War and the Mexican border service. At the present time it is the largest company in the 3rd Iowa Infantry. Its home station is Council Bluffs, Iowa.

CO. M, 3RD INFANTRY, RED OAK, IOWA

Company M, 3rd Iowa Infantry, stationed at Red Oak, Iowa, was organized on October 18th, 1893, with a membership of twenty-nine which however was soon increased to fifty. Jesse W. Clark was the first Captain to command the organization and Guy E. Logan was his Second Lieutenant.

In the spring of 1894 the company had its first service, it being called to Council Bluffs, Iowa, to repel the invasion of Coxey's Industrial Army. The entire membership of the company responded to the call of President McKinley for volunteers for the Spanish-American War April 26th, 1898, but were sent to the Philippine Islands where they served in the Philippine insurrection until their return to the States in the fall of 1899 and were mustered out of service.

The company was promptly reorganized as Co. M, 51st Infantry, and later designated as the 55th Infantry; changing to its present designation as 3rd Infantry on July 1st, 1915.

The company has always maintained a high rank in the National Guard of Iowa. For two years it was honored as being selected to do Guard duty at the Iowa State Fair and had the refusal of the duty for a third year when called to Mexican border service.

During its twenty-three years of existence the company has been under the command of only four different Captains and each of them was a member of the original company as it was formed in 1893.

MACHINE GUN CO., 3RD REGT., DES MOINES

The history of the Machine-gun Company dates back from the formation of the 55th Infantry from the 51st Iowa Volunteers upon their return from the Philippine Islands and the reorganization of Co. A of the 55th to the Machine-gun Company, 3rd Infantry, I. N. G., thence at muster-in for the Mexican border service to the present, 1916.

This branch of the service was new and interesting and a school of the machine-gun at Sparta, Wisconsin, was attended by all officers and non-commissioned officers of the company. The new weapon was found to be not only a most efficient automatic rifle but a wonderfully developed gas engine, weighing but twenty-seven pounds and in action indicating about fifty-nine horsepower. Its use called for a highly trained personnel, making for a high grade organization.

We have attended perhaps one of the most interesting schools of instruction, that of the machine-gun at Harlingen, Texas, hiking there in mud to our knees and rain, never ending, a steady hike of thirty wet slippery miles. We studied and when school had ended, one Saturday afternoon, the sun was bright and we hiked it back to Brownsville, and midnight found us asleep in our bunks.

We have been through one of the worst hurricanes on the border, we have seen as severe a norther as ever is likely to hit the Magic Valley of the Rio Grande at 3:00 A. M. while in a pup-tent fourteen miles from garrison, and we have maneuvered night and day in the greatest of maneuvers, all to our credit and glory, and we have fought—only mosquitos and cactus.

CO. A ENGINEERS, IOWA CITY, IOWA

Iowa City has been represented in every war engaged in by the United States since Iowa entered the Union, but the present organization has been in existence since July 30th, 184. At that time the company was organized with J. G. Gilchrist as Captain, and its title was Company C, 3rd Iowa Infantry. About a year later the organization was transferred to Company I, 2nd Iowa Infantry, and, as such, it remained until 1897, when another system of numbering of the regiments made it Company I, 50th Iowa Infantry. Under this designation, the company saw service in the Spanish-American War, L. F. T. (Pansy) Cherry commanding. In 1899, the regiments were reorganized and Co. I, 50th Infantry, became Company I, 54th Iowa Infantry, until June 1st, 1915, when it was transferred to Company A, Iowa Engineers, the first Engineer company organized in the State of Iowa. At the call of the President, the company was mobilized June 20th, 1916, and was mustered into the United States service at Camp Dodge, Iowa, June 29th, 1916. On July 27th, 1916, Captain Lou E. Clark commanding Co. A, Iowa Engineers, arrived in Brownsville, Texas, to take its part in the program of instruction and training known as the Mexican border service.

HISTORY OF THE 1ST ARTILLERY

With no previous field training as a battalion organization the Iowa artillery reached the border the latter part of July and on its departure had succeeded in winning first place in all efficiency tests conducted in the Brownsville district in competition with four battalions from other States.

The battalion was organized in August, 1915, and consisted of Batteries A, B, and C, located in the three Mississippi River towns, Clinton, Davenport, and Muscatine respectively. Each of the three batteries had had ten days of field training previously. Major R. S. Whitley was promoted to its command from the captaincy of A Battery.

Much credit for the excellent record made by the organization during its border service is due Captain E. S. Wheeler, Fourth U. S. Field Artillery, assigned as inspector-instructor.

BATTERY A, 1ST ARTILLERY, CLINTON, IOWA

Battery A was organized Feb. 2, 1914, with Capt. G. W. Dulany, Jr., in command. It was formed with Co. H of the former 54th as a nucleus. The first camp was held at De Witt, Iowa, about six weeks after the battery received its wheel equipment. The next year Major R. S. Whitley became its Captain and was in command at the time of the next camp, held at Sparta, Wis., at which time the battery, in competition with National Guard artillery of three other States, was awarded a silk banner as the most efficient battery. During the same year Captain Brandt assumed charge and under his leadership the battery reached its highest point of efficiency.

The battery answered President Wilson's call June 20th and spent five months on the border. The culmination of its training was reached Nov. 27th when, in competition with thirteen other batteries in a field firing test, A Battery scored the highest number of hits. Capt. Brandt directed the fire. The battery was mustered out at Des Moines, Iowa, during the holidays.

BATTERY B, 1ST ARTILLERY, DAVENPORT, IOWA

Battery B, 1st Iowa Field Artillery, was organized on June 10, 1915, at Davenport, Iowa, when the young men of Davenport awoke to the fact that our country needed a larger number of units of this important branch, fitly expressing the patriotism of Davenport's best young men.

Target practice at Camp Robinson, Wisconsin, in August, 1915, helped develop its efficiency.

The President's call of June, 1916, found Battery B an efficient organization which answered immediately to the man.

From June 27th to July 24th Captain Compton prepared his men for real service at the Camp Dodge mobilization camp, the command being mustered into United States service on June 30th.

Arriving at Brownsville, Texas, on July 28th the battery immediately gained a reputation for efficiency and at the end of its six months' border service was known as one of the best artillery units on the southern border.

TROOP C, 1ST CAVALRY, OXFORD & WILLIAMSBURG

Troop C was organized at Oxford and Williamsburg, Iowa, on June 1st, 1915, by Major R. P. Howell. Attended first annual encampment at Iowa City, Aug. 16 to 25, 1915. Answered the call of the President of June 18, 67 men strong. Went into squadron rendezvous at Iowa City, Iowa, on June 20, 1916, where several men enlisted. The squadron moved to Camp Young, near North Liberty, Iowa, on June 21st, and into mobilization camp at Camp Dodge, Iowa, on June 30, 1916. The troop, consisting of 68 men, was mustered into Federal service July 19th and entrained for Donna, Texas, July 21, which place was reached July 27, 1916.

Much strenuous work was necessary to grub out a camp site, all of which was cheerfully done in spite of the intense heat. After months of varied and hard training the troop is in excellent condition. There has been much to relieve the monotony of steady training. Many "hurry up" night patrols have been necessary. A hike now and then and the November maneuvers have done much to educate us in military science.

TROOP D, 1ST CAVALRY, GRINNELL & W. BRANCH

Troop D, 1st Iowa Cavalry, was organized in May, 1915, at West Branch, Iowa, and consisted originally of 3 officers and 63 enlisted men, all of whom were provided with their own private mounts.

Responded to President's call June 20, 1916, assembling at West Branch, Iowa, and marching overland to Iowa City where they joined the Iowa squadron. Went into camp at Camp Young, Iowa, June 22, 1916, where 24 additional men were enlisted. When called on to sign muster-in oath, 48 men, through misunderstanding, refused to sign and were returned to their home station. The troop, after sending all private mounts home, was then moved to Camp Dodge, Iowa, June 30, 1916, where 8 new enlistments were secured and 24 men of the 1st separate infantry company of Grinnell, Iowa, were transferred to Troop D, which brought the membership to 73 which number mustered into the service of the United States July 19, 1916. Left for the Mexican border July 23, 1916, and arrived at Donna, Texas, July 28, 1916. On Aug. 4, 1916, 22 men who had returned to home station from Camp Young were again called and immediately mustered into service of the United States, joining their troop at Donna, Texas, on Aug. 16, 1916. Two deaths occurred in Troop D during the service, both resulting from accidental discharge of pistols.
